News letter for EAA Chapter 651 Volume 25 Issue 2

From the Prez

Meeti

Thanks to Paul Stutleen for his donation of goodies at our January meeting following his birthday! Speaking of food-several of our members enjoyed a very good chili feed at the Wausau airport on Saturday January 26. They also had a good selection of sweets to finish off the lunch. March 9 from 7P.M.-10 P.M. at the EAA Museum the annual Hops & Props event will be presented. The VIP experience begins at 5:30 with dinner at 6:00. Our flying weather this winter has had its ups and downs --you just have to get a flight in when ever the weather co-operates! Fly safely-see you at Nicolet on February 11 at 7:00 P.M. Your Prez. ## Big news at Austin Straubel is that Woody has restarted CAVU Flight Academy

I talk3ed with Woody the other day and was informed that he has taken over the flight school at Executive Air and The school will be named Cavu Flight Academy. They will be training students for Private Pilot up through ATP. Woody informed me that they will be renting Cessna 172's and will have access to a Piper Arrow and Seminole. Their web site is Cavuflightacademy.com. You will need to sign a new rental and insurance agreements. Glad to see you up and running and Good luck

Airwaves

OK, it can stop snowing and blowing and warm up. We had winter!!

Had a well attended but quiet Jan EAA meeting at Nicolet. Paul brought some homemade cakes and treats to celebrate his Birthday and it was all good!! I wanted to sing for the occasion but he wouldn't let me. Thanks Paul!! :) We voted to have the Christmas party at The Woods again so mark your calendars for Sunday Dec 1, 2013. I already booked it! I'm sure it will be chix and beef tips. 5pm social, 6pm supper. We're in such a wonderful rut! Any ideas for entertainment or anything else?

I think we're going to work on a 2014 airplane calendar. Alan is going to help me with the details in how we will be collecting a pic of your bird to display. Private and clubplanes. Maybe include Birthdays? Let's talk about it and share ideas.

Keep it on the centerline and stay current.
