

The Sky's the Limit

JUL 16
Interim

EAA Chapter 651 Newsletter Volume 28, Issue 6.0

From the Prez -

This July is shaping up to be a great month for all things aviation. Of course there's the obvious of Airventure, which goes without saying. But opportunities abound for flight activities beyond that, some related, others not. Don't forget about the myriad of festivals and gatherings in the area; I'm Lifestyl bound for that weekend. It's hard to pick which to attend.

As mentioned at the last meeting, I'm trying to put together some fly-outs that anyone available can join in on to get us out and doing some things outside our normal haunts. I'll put a list of a couple out that seem interesting. If anyone else has trip ideas in mind, especially short jaunts that we can do in a morning or partial day, let your ideas be known.

Looking at our meeting programming, there are still chances to bring in speakers and such as not every month is fully planned. It doesn't hurt to get started on the first part of next year either. I've been trying to make our meetings more about fun and less about business, so working together toward that goal will benefit us all.

That sums up what's happening with me for the moment. We'll be meeting at Gerry Clabots' hangar at the South T's for our next meeting, so I hope to see everyone there. Don't forget that friends and new faces are always welcome! Happy flying!
