EAA Chapter 651 Newsletter "November Interim"

NOTAMS :

November meeting at Jet Air -
Monday, Nov 12th
@ 7:00 pm.

From the Prez -

Greetings Chapter members and fellow aviation enthusiasts! What a glorious month November is for all it brings us. Save for our green and gold grid iron warriors, things are going quite well. We have the chance that we'll see snow relatively soon, some among us will partake in the annual orange clad tromp through the north woods, and prior to sneaking into December, we'll gather with family to dine upon some gobbling delicacies. So who will incorporate the wonders of flight in to those activities? It's always great to hear stories of flights to interesting places and events. Take some notes and share your adventures with the group through the newsletter.

Speaking of interesting things, I'm getting very excited by what I hear coming down the pike for our build project. There will be more to discuss at the next Chapter meeting, but those who are steering the project are investing significant amounts of time and energy, all of which is forming together what I believe will be an extremely fun, engaging, and satisfying project for us to be involved with. For quite some time, there has been chatter back and forth amongst the Chapter about a build project of some sort. It was positive for the most part, but never seemed to get significant traction. Well folks, that locomotive is building steam and is about to move down tracks. If you've been waiting for that chance to be involved in something truly great, give this project a thought. There will be opportunities for all skill levels, so don't be afraid to get on the crew. More to come, so stay tuned.

Lastly, we are nearing our annual Christmas gathering meeting. As noted, we'll be at The Woods on December 17. We haven't been there in a number of years, so it will be refreshing to go back there. I'm still working on solidifying the entertainment for the evening, but should know soon. Our meal will offer the choice of chicken and tips, with all the accoutrements of course, proceeded by a time for light drinks and socializing. Check the website and newsletter for specific details and to sign up. We'll need a headcount by early December, so sign up as soon as possible. We can always add a few, but it gives them a number to plan food. Also, since everyone will pay the Chapter for the evening (we'll then write them out one check), consider paying for the party and next year's dues at the same time.

With that said, I'll be signing off. Have a wonderful November, see you at the next Chapter meeting at Jet Air, and travel safe. Happy flying!
